A Brief History:

LifeChain was begun in California in 1987 by Please Let Me Live, a pro-life group. It has since spread to the entire U.S., with hundreds of communities now involved. Some of the largest have been in St. Louis (18,000), and Cincinnati (20,000). LifeChain Sunday is Sunday, October 7, 2007. Mark it on your calendar now and make arrangements for you and others in your church to participate by e-mailing exdir@starkrtl.com.

Stark County Life Chain Purpose

To provide a vibrant, visual sign of the vast opposition to the violent destruction of the innocent, human life in the womb by legal protection.

In Stark County each year, for example, almost 850 little girls and boys are killed legally, almost as many as are permitted to be born.

The Body of Christ has never stood silently in the face of such wanton destruction of God's children, yet many Christians have. We stand as witnesses to God's love and truth in regard to America's 30 year war on the Unborn.

Now is the time to stand for the truth - that God is the Author of all human life—and that no one ever has the authority to usurp God's rights over it—and that He forgives the sin of abortion through Jesus' saving death and resurrection -
